"LED ASTRAY."—This beautiful play was most excellently rendered at Tucker Hall last night by the Hall Combination Company. Although this company has performed three nights this week, the hall was filled last night, and that, too with a fashionable audience, the latter manifesting by repeated bursts of applause their full appreciation of the rendition of the play. We will not attempt to-night to speak of the performance further than to say that the company did itself full justice.

ANOTHER WARNING.—Little Sydney Betts (son of the late Capt. C. Betts who was formerly Judge of Probate for Granville,) was quite much injured a few days ago in the face while tampering with a lighted string and some powder. His face is quite much disfigured, though the injury is not of a permanent character.

ARRIVED HOME.—Dr. W. J. Hawkins arrived at his home in Warren yesterday from the Hot Springs, Arkansas. We are gratified to learn that his health is greatly improved.

PARTICULARS OF THE DEATH OF MAJOR GEO. W. GRICE.—We copy the following particulars of the death of Major Grice, notice of which we published yesterday morning, from the Norfolk Virginian of Saturday:

The mournful intelligence we announced yesterday of the sudden death of our distinguished fellow-citizen, Maj. Geo. W. Grice, s, read a gloom of sorrow over our entire community. Everywhere his demise was spoken of as a calamity and a sad loss to the city of Portsmouth, and the tenderest expressions of sympathy for the bereaved ones, were spoken on every hand. The passing away of no other man in the community could hardly have produced such profound, genuine and universal grief. On buildings, at the steamboat wharves, railroad depots and on all the merchant shipping in the harbor flags were hung at half-mast, eloquently and impressively attesting the widespread feeling of sympathy occasioned by the sad event.

The last hours of Major Grice can be related briefly for his death was so very sudden. He arrived home in his usual health on the 7 o'clock express from his office in Raleigh and went at once from the depot to his residence on North street. After supper he received a visit from Captain Ghio, Superintendent of the Seaboard and Roanoke Railroad, and Mr. Hodges, Cashier of the Bank of Portsmouth. With these gentlemen he held an important business conference and at its conclusion the party cheerfully separated about 10 o'clock. Major Grice merely complaining of a headache and thinking it proceeded from long ride on the cars.

He retired to bed after kissing his two children, with his faculties all perfect and calm, and as Mrs. Grice rose to go down into the hallway to bolt the front door, his words to her were, "Put something around your shoulders, wife; you may take cold." When Mrs. Grice returned from below she found the Major was taken suddenly ill. A doctor was immediately sent for, who remained with him for a length of time. Gradually he became worse, and it was plain to the practical eye of the physician that dissolution was approaching. Friends and relatives were called around the bedside of the dying one, and watched with painful emotions and outcries from grief-stricken hearts the slowly ebbing away of the good man's life. At last it was half past one o clock, and the concluding vibrations of the pulse came and shut the scene with death.

Calmly and peacefully he died, even as a little child sinks into its innocent slumbers.

"He gave his honors to the world again,
His blessed part to Heaven, and slept in peace."

He needs no greater epitaph than to say the poor will miss a steadfast friend, the church a pillar and society an exemplary Christian gentleman.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Bank of Portsmouth, and at a meeting of the Directors of the Portsmouth Insurance Company on the same day, he having been officially connected with both companies, resolutions of respect to the deceased and a sympathy with his family were passed, and mourning emblems were placed on the depot and shops and all the engines of the Seaboard and Roanoke Railroad, and the facade of the Bank of Portsmouth was also draped in mourning.

The Virginian says of him editorially:

Attacked most suddenly, he died, without a struggle, and without pain, his bedside tended by the love of family and friends.

Not ours to tell of his reward, but only to see and to point out the loss to the community.

To a mind capacious of the largest thought, Major Grice added a power of dealing with the minutest detail; with a boundless charity he combined a clear judgement and unyielding firmness, so that all the elements were so justly mixed in him that who knew him recognized a man equal to all endeavor, and afraid of nothing but of wrong doing.

The poor lose in him a friend, the young an example, the public a servant, the church of his faith an humble disciple.

The office of the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad in this city, the room and chair of the late President and the trains going out of the city over the road were draped in mourning, and a general feeling of regret throughout our community continued to be expressed at the untimely and sudden death of Major Grice.

On Friday night a special train left this city for Portsmouth, containing Major Winder, the Superintendent of the Road, and Mr. A. M. McPheeters, and yesterday morning Mr. J. B. Batchelor, one of the Directors of the Road, and Mr. R. H. Jones, Auditor of the R. & A. L. Road, went to Portsmouth on the regular train to attend the funeral obsequies, which will take place in Portsmouth this afternoon.

THE RALEIGH LIGHT INFANTRY IN WILMINGTON—THEIR RECEPTION AND ENTERTAINMENT THERE.—The members of the Raleigh Light Infantry Company express the most unbounded satisfaction with their trip to Wilmington last week. Meeting the Norfolk Guards at Goldsboro on Tuesday, the two companies arrived at Wilmington that night and was received by the Wilmington Artillery and Infantry companies, and from that time until the departure of the visiting companies Friday morning their entertainment at the hands of the citizens and the military of Wilmington was of the most enjoyable and bounteous character, the city being literally placed at their disposal.

On their arrival at Firemen's Hall Tuesday night they were welcomed by Major M. P. Taylor, of the Wilmington Infantry, which was responded to by Capt. Manly. They were barracked in the hall of the Hook and Ladder Company, which has been arranged with every convenience and comfort—the Raleigh Company being the special guests of the Wilmington Artillery and the Norfolk Guards that of the Infantry Company.

On Thursday night the contest for the best drilled company took place at the Fair Grounds in the presence of thousands of spectators, the Raleighites bearing off the honors, winning the handsome satin flag offered by the Fair Association. The flag has not yet been given the company, as the coat of arms of North Carolina has to be placed upon it, the Fair Association not knowing what State would win it, and hence the necessary delay in the actual presentation of the flag. The best of feeling pervaded the other companies over the victory won by the Raleigh boys, it being conceded on every hand that the award by the judges was a just one.

On Thursday night a banquet was given those visiting the soldiery at the Cape Fear Club rooms, which was attended by hundreds of the citizens of Wilmington, and several hours were thus most enjoyably spent in the dispensing of the eatables and drinkables and in toasting, speechifying, songs, &c.

On Friday morning the visiting companies turned their faces homewards, being escorted to the depot by the Wilmington military, and at Goldsboro the Raleigh Company parted with the Norfolk Guards, between which companies during their mutual visit, there had been formed the strongest attachment, and should the two companies ever meet again on the field of contest there will be no jealousies over the honors that either may have won or may win in the future.

The members of the Raleigh Light Infantry express themselves extremely pleased at the courtesies they received on every hand, from both the military and the citizens of Wilmington, where it seemed that each vied with the other in doing them honor, and should the military of that city ever visit Raleigh we know our boys will endeavor to repay them in part. Where the citizens generally did so much to add to their comfort it would seem invidious to speak of any one specially, but they feel particularly grateful to Mr. F. W. Kerchner, whose continued attention added greatly to the pleasures of the occasion.

The whole trip and the return home of the Company was unattended with anything to mar the occasion in the slightest, and Captain Manly speaks in praise of the gentlemanly bearing and soldierly conduct of the company throughout their absence from this city.

In Goldsboro they received courtesies from a number of the citizens, but more especially from Messrs. Bonitz and Prempert.

Full returns of the election in Kansas show that of the 72 organized counties 69 were carried by the Republicans and 3 by the opposition. Last year the opposition carried 16 counties.

FARMING INTERESTS.

"Numerous actual experiments made in connection with stock feeding have furnished us with a good mode to calculate, approximately, the annual production of manure for every kind of farm stock. First, the entire fresh excretions of cattle, sheep and horses, amount, on an average, to 50 per cent. of the dry substance (at 212 degrees F.) of the food consumed. Secondly, one-fourth of the weight of the dry food consumed is required in dry straw, for example, to absorb the liquid excrement; and thirdly, stable manure contains, on an average, 25 per cent. of dry substance and 72 per cent. of water. Hence, allowing for absorbents, for every 100 pounds of dry food consumed we have 300 pounds of manure.

"The commercial value of stable manure may be approximately ascertained by allowing for every ton about ten pounds of potash, eight pounds of nitrogen, and four pounds of phosphoric acid, but these figures are an average of a very uncertain series, for we have seen that the quality of animal excrement depends altogether upon the food consumed. The agricultural value of stable manure stands higher than any commercial fertilizer containing these substances in like proportions: for barnyard manure not only furnishes plant food, but also acts beneficially on the physical condition of the soil.

"The only serious objection which can be urged against the exclusive use of the stable manure in mixed farming, consists in the fact that it becomes an incomplete fertilizer, in consequence of the too general practice of selling crops without restoring to the soil, in some suitable form, at least their ash constituents. And this is a serious objection.

"There are two ways by which barnyard manure may be a complete fertilizer for any crop, and these are: to restore the soil constituents sold in the barn produce, either by buying and feeding rich food in addition to the fodder crops raised, or by securing a sufficient amount of plant food by using commercial fertilizers.

Which of these two courses is most economical, cannot well be decided on general principles, beyond the statement that the first course deserves careful consideration in the cultivation of special crops.

COWS FOR MILK.—Mr. A. S. Fish, of Herkimer, N. Y., who has been very successful in breeding good milkers, says that in order to rear cows to fluent milkers they should have succulent food from their birth until brought into milk, which we would have at an early age. A skillful breeder must understand adapting the various kinds of foods to develop essential points, and fix them by habits in the constitution. The food of a calf when changed from milk should be cooked and fed warm, and, as nearly as possible, prepared for ready distribution in the system.

COMPARATIVE VALUE OF FOOD.—Taking timothy hay as the standard of comparison, it requires 100 pounds of it to supply a certain amount of nourishment. It is estimated by careful experiment, that the same amount of nourishment can be obtained by using the following quantities of other food. Clover hay, 95 lbs.; rye straw, 355 lbs.; oat straw 220 lbs.; potatoes, 195.; carrots, 280 lbs.; beets 846 lbs.; ruta bagas, 262 lbs.; wheat, 43 lbs.; peas, 44 lbs.; wheat, 43 lbs.; peas, 44 lbs.; beans 46 lbs.; rye, 49 lbs.; barley, 51 lbs.; corn, 56 lbs.; oats, 59 lbs.; buckwheat. 64 lbs.; and oil cake, 64 lbs.

Organization of the Baptist State Convention.

This Convention met in Shelby on Wednesday last. The Shelby Banner has this to say of the opening day's proceedings:

Convention met at 3 o'clock on Wednesday evening, J. M. Heck in the chair. Prayer by the Rev. Theodore Whitfield, of Charlotte, N. C. The names of the delegates were enrolled by the Secretary. On motion the election of President was gone into, which resulted in the election of Judge Kerr. The Judge was conducted to the chair by two of the brethren and made a very feeling and appropriate address. On motion of J. D. Hufham a committee of three were appointed to nominate the remainder of officers. Committee appointed: Dr. T. H. Pritchard, J. P. Boon and J. A. Stradly. The committee after retiring for a short time returned and made the following nominations:

For Vice-Presidents—W. A. Graham, R. R. Overby and R. H. Griffith.
Treasurer—John S. Williams.
Auditor—W. W. Boss.
Recording Secretary—J. D. Hufham.
Assistant Secretary—F. R. Underwood.
Corresponding Secretary—J. B. Richardson.

On motion, the above officers were unanimously elected.

While the elections were going on Rev. C. T. Baily, of the Recorder, made brief remarks in the interest of his paper.

J. C. Moody also announced that he was out begging for the Morganton church.

On motion of J. D. Hufham, the order of business of last year was adopted for this year.

On motion the Convention was requested to meet at 9 o'clock in the morning, adjourn at half past twelve, convene in the evening at half past two and adjourn at will.

After several jokes were passed, the Convention adjourned to meet again this (Thursday) morning at 9 o'clock.

VICE-PRESIDENT.—Dr. Baxter says the Vice-President's illness is attributably directly to an excessively high temperature of the bath which he took yesterday morning while still suffering from indigestion, caused by heavy dinners in New York and Philadelphia, closely following overwork of his mental faculties. If the local weakness of a portion of his spine had not delivered the rush of blood to his back it would have gone to his brain and produced death by apoplexy.

SMALL POX IN BROOKLYN.

This terrible scourage has broken out with great violence in Brooklyn, and from attendant circumstances is likely to have a wide spread reign in that city. There seems to be an unaccountable fatuity among the population, who work unconcernedly among the infected, and who seem bent upon giving as wide a circulation to the disease as possible. And then there is the old and blind opposition to vaccination which has to be enforced under the terrors of the law. It is a terrible infliction, for it falls mostly upon the poor at a time when the calamity of a loathsome and deadly disease is accumulated upon the sufferings of a cruel winter and pinching poverty.

THE Chronicle is reminded that the mere fact of the contradiction by the official organs of the report of the complicity of certain gentlemen in the St. Louis whiskey frauds is not conclusive evidence of their innocence. We would refer him to the fact of three of the Grand Jury being anxious to bring indictments against two of the parties the Chronicle would exonerate, from which purpose they were only turned by the unprecedented action of the counsel. When clear proof of innocence is presented, we will take much pleasure in making the contradiction—not before, because we have learned to distrust the purity of even those high in position.

If a Vice-President falls, it is not impossible that lesser lights should fall also.

THE WRECKS.

And nothing yet from the passengers and crew of the Waco. Two hundred souls hurried into eternity amid lightning and tempest, the wild roaring of the flames and the yet wilder fury of fire. At anchor, in sight of her haven, surrounded with the companionship of a fleet, yet not an arm stretched out to save, not a ray of help from human hand. In the fury of the waves, or amid the roaring of the flames they have all perished.

It is a hideous story, made more terrible by the fact that its horrors were aggravated by a violation of law. But for the presence of a large quantity of petroleum unlawfully on board it is more than probable the flames would have been subdued or held in check until assistance arrived. As it was, the flame enveloped the ship with the suddenness of an explosion, and it may be that not a soul was able to leave the vessel.

One more survivor from the Pacific, and he only adds to the story of the utter inefficiency of the means provided against danger. Truly, reform is needed in maratime matters, when day after day and year after year we find the increasing repetition of these fearful disasters.

ILLNESS OF THE VICE PRESIDENT.

The condition of this gentleman as indicated by the telegrams from Washington, is somewhat improved. Yet he is still confined to a room in the Capitol where he was first attacked, being too ill to be removed It is more than probable that his active career as a statesman is at an end. This attack, in connection with previous others, must have shattered his constitution beyond repair.

With the earlier history of Mr. Wilson, the South has little sympathy. He was one of that band that pursued the system of slavery with rancorous hostility. But since the war, he has never joined with the extremists of the Republican party, and has interposed himself as a barrier against their violent measures towards the South. Extensive tours through the Southern States, and free and familiar intercourse with their people and statesmen disarmed him, and filled him with liberal and generous sentiments. He is now more obnoxious to his own party than to the South. We hope to hear of his speedy recovery, though inclined to think that is not to be expected.

THE PRESIDENTIAL TICKET.

The Washington News nominates Bayard, of Delaware, as President, and Gordon, of Georgia, as Vice President.

Long ago we expressed the opinion that there should be no Southern man on the ticket. Such presence would destroy all chances of success of the Democratic party. The masses of the North do not trust us. The results of the late elections give some indications of that. The presence even of ex-Confederate soldiers on the floors of Congress causes uneasiness. Let the South bide its time, and win its way to respect and confidence. She will surely do it, for she is strong in the consciousness of her honor, her integrity and her talent.

The Petersburg Index and Appeal, commenting on the nomination of the Washington News, takes occasion to pay the following tribute to Gen. Matt. Ransom:

"If any Southern man is to occupy the second place on the presidential ticket, we are reasonably confident that Senator Ransom, of North Carolina, will probably be selected. He combines every quality and recommendation for the high and honorable selection. If anybody from the South is so distinguished, we believe Senator Ransom has the best chance to secure the prize. He will be worthy of it in all respects, and Virginia will rejoice with North Carolina in the proud promotion of the latter's gallant and gifted son."

INVESTIGATIONS.

The Washington Chronicle sees the hand-writing on the wall and deprecates in advance the work of the Democratic majority. It complains that the work of the last two Congresses was seriously interrupted in its legitimate business by the investigations demanded by the opposition. Well, perhaps it was of the legitimate business of Congress to grant subsidies to enrich government favorites and pet corporations, to make appropriations for a navy that has not been built up, and provide for an army to terrorize over the South or to scour the prairies in pleasure parties more intent upon hunting the buffalo than in meeting the troublesome savage. These being the legitimate objects of the Congress, we grant that the opposition was somewhat impertinent and somewhat wasteful of the valuable time of the Congress.

But has not investigation accomplished vast good? Has it not been necessary to bring to an end evils that had grown into systems by indulgence? It is true that many of these investigations came to nothing in respect to the punishment of offenders, because it almost always, perhaps always, happened that the friends of the accused were placed on these Investigating Committees. But there was always enough developed to form a public opinion as to the guilt, and that public opinion forced a remedy. The most stupendous of them all, the grandest conspiracy against the public treasury, participated in by members of Congress, and the Vice-President of the United States himself, was exposed and broken up, and if the results were inconsequential so far as punishment was concerned, yet the guilty parties were so covered with ignominy that they were driven into retirement, and few will be bold enough to subject themselves to the terrors of just such another inquisition.

The general order business, the immense profits of which were divided between the guilty heads of it, Leete and Stocking and certain government officials and favorites, was broken up after two years work, and millions saved (or ought to have been) to the government.

Then there was the investigation into the District Ring, where millions were wasted or misapplied or stolen. Congress was called upon to make good the losses which the people of the United State have to pay. Shepherd, the great conspirator and rogue, found a good friend in the President, and still holds his spoils though his guilt was proven.

These and many other instances show the necessity, if not the fruitfulness of investigations. There are other subjects which a Democratic Congress will not let alone, because it is the interest of the whole country to know why it is that with so large a revenue the National debt decreases so imperceptibly; why it is that in a state of peace, taxation is so burdensome; why it is that with every necessity for rigid economy, governmental extravagance is still so rampant.

Investigation will be the order of the day, even should it happen to waste the precious time of Congress.

[From the Shelby Banner.]

Death of the Hon. Plato Durham.

We have again been painfully reminded that there is an appointed time to men on earth, and that he consumed, and vanished away as the cloud. There is not a day, not an hour, scarcely a minute passes over us that some recruit or veteran in the great army of life does not pass away. The sad and shocking news was announced on last Tuesday morning, 9th of November, that the Hon. Plato Durham breathed his last at 10 minutes before 6 o'clock. He had been very unwell for the past week, but all hoped soon to see him out again. But alas! the messenger of death passed and wafted his noble spirit to realms unknown; swept from our midst the noblest of the noble, and left us stunned, standing in awe, knowing only what shadows we are, and what shadows we pursue. How difficult it is to comprehend, in this full blaze of light and life, that the broad-shouldered, stalwart man who has so recently boldly stood up in the interest of his country his voice still ringing in our ears, unceasing in activity, seeking only the good of others, should in so short a time, disappear from our sight forever.

Capt. Plato Durham, eldest son of Micajah and Esther Durham, was born on the 20th of September, 1875, making him, at the time of his death, 35 years, 1 month and 19 days old. He was the fourth child of a family of thirteen children—six boys and seven girls. A strong man has fallen. The State has lost one of her noblest sons. The county, her Chart and Compass. He was a man loved and respected by all and his death will be received by his countrymen with great reluctance. Mr. Durham gained the confidence of his people in early life and has ever had an eye single to their interest. He being endowed with strong physical powers, clear practical mind and indomitable will, all united in impelling him onward and upward. His was a mind that was not contented to occupy any uncertain position. No so called doctrine ever deterred him from pursuing the right, as he saw it. Sprung from liberty-loving ancestors, he retained all their notions of freedom, but grafted thereon a greater love, begotton by the spirit of this progressive age. His opinions once carefully formed, no timidity characterized their expression. He always followed his convictions to their logical consequences. Men who united their political fortunes with his felt a confidence that he would continue as he began, and turn not aside and leave them without a standard-bearer to lead them. He has ever been highly esteemed by all of his coun rymen. With pride they had viewed his elevation and success in life. They shared in his reputation. His honor was their honor.

His funeral was preached in the Baptist Church on Wednesday morning, at 10 o'clock, by the Rev. Dr. T. H. Pritchard, of Raleigh, N. C., after which his remains were carried to the cemetery, followed by the Convention and a large number of the citizens. Thus hath passed away our noble man. He is dead, but his memory will ever live in the minds of his countrymen. His name will be inscribed on the pages of history by future historians, and will be handed down to future generations to reflect honor on Cleveland county and the State of North Carolina.

ANOTHER CHINESE TRICK.—The Stockton (Cal.) Leader gives the following bit of unpleasant experience on the part of three gamblers: "A short time since three young men who belong to that peculiar gents known as the sporting fraternity, had a somewhat similar experience as that which befell "Bill Nye," depicted in the poem known as the "Heathen Chinee." These three young men were, in the absence of anything more profitable, having a quiet, little game of poker in a saloon on—well, we will not give the name or locality. A Chinaman who happened to be passing by, heard the cheerful click of coin, and, on looking in, he discovered that a game was in progress. He stepped in, and after looking on awhile, remarked: "Me heap sabe play all same Melican man," at the same time exhibiting a large sack of coin. The eyes of the sports glistened, and their fingers itched to handle the coin of the heathen. John was invited to take a hand, and in less than an hour afterward was seen leaving the saloon with all the spare coin the others had in their possession."

TILTON IN THE WEST.—The exchanges inform us that Theodore Tilton is now lecturing out West to audiences that will rival in numbers the hearers of Moody and Sanky. In vain do ministers command their congregations to abstain from going near him. The churches and halls are crowded to their utmost capacities and even the windows are darkened by a curious and anxious throng.

The Cincinnati Enquirer is still snapping and clawing in the grave of inflation like a hyena, irritated by the lashing it has received and soured by the hopelessness of its situation; but the other inflationists, with more prudence and a becoming resignation, have sought sequestered spots, are saying nothing, but pleading with the mute eloquence of locks, "For God's sake, spare us!"—Courier-Journal.

A French blacksmith has devised a perforated plate, put in rotation by clock work and intended to place behind the lock of a safe. The consequence is that the safe cannot be opened except at certain times during business hours when there is no danger of any robber intruding into the offices.

Secretary Bristow, in conversation with a well-known gentleman yesterday, said: "The revenues of the country must and shall be collected and properly applied to the payments of the national debt, it matters not who falls by the wayside."—Washington Chronicle.

The fortune of General Grant is no less than a million dollars, and is still growing. In 1860, it was less than $700 a year The Boston Post thinks Grant's present wealth might perhaps be used by moralists as a text to illustrate the benefits of honesty and economy.

All over the world Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is making its way, and every place it reaches consumptive people are more seldom met. It is truly a blessing to humanity, and only costs 25 cents.

Stanley's greatest discovery in Africa was a king with three hundred wives; but exactly what young Jim Bennett and the editor of the London Telegraph will do with them is not yet apparent.

Western journalists are the most inveterate Pickwickians the world produces. They slang-whang one author continually in the vilest terms; and when they meet drink, embrace, and part like brothers.

The Wrecked Pacific—Another Survivor—a Dreadful Story.

A dispatch from Neah Bay, Washington Territory, dated the 11th, gives the statement of Neal O'Haley, Quartermaster of the Pacific, rescued by the revenue cutter Oliver Walcott, on the morning of the 7th inst., to the following effect:

About 250 people were on board; went below at 8 P. M.; everything all right, lights in place; when the shock occurred ran on deck; everything was in confusion; the passengers were crowding on the hurricane deck; ship fell off into the trough of the sea; saw a large vessel under sail, which they said struck the steamer; saw her green light distinctly.

The passengers crowded into the boats against the commands of officers; with the Chief Engineer I got the port boat forward into the water; fifteen women and six men got in her, but she capsized by the rolling of the ship; saw none of them afterward; supported myself by floating on the skylight about fifteen minutes, then got on a portion of the hurricane deck with some eight others; on looking for the steamer found she had disappeared, leaving a floating mass of human beings.

The screams for help were fearful, but they soon ceased and we were alone on the raft. There were the captain, second mate, second cook and four passengers, including a young lady. At 1 A. M. the next morning it blew a gale from the southeast, the sea making a clean breech over the raft; lashed ourselves; about 4 A. M. the sea washed overboard the captain, second mate, the lady and another passenger. About 9 A. M. the second cook died. It cleared up about 4 P. M.; saw land fifteen miles distant and a piece of the wreck with two or more on it.—About 5 P. M. another died. On the morning of the 8th another died, leaving me alone.

About 4 P. M. a large empty box floated near me; got it on the raft for shelter; slept sound that night several hours. On the morning of the 7th saw land on both sides; continued calm all day and night; at 3 A. M. was rescued by the cutter.

Postmaster Pease, of Vicksburg, Miss., has been removed. It will be remembered that he advised Attorney General Pierrepont that Ames had exagerated the condition of affairs in Mississippi, and that there was no need of Federal troops. This explains the removal.

Governors have long lives in Maine. There are ten men living there who have been at the head of the State: Kent, A. P. Morrill, Hamlin, Williams, L. M. Morrill, Washburn, Coburn, Chamberlain, Perham, and Dingley. Four of them are over 70 years of age.

Florence Nightingale, in reply to an invitation to the Balaklava banquet writes: "I regret that it is impossible for me to accept it, as I have been for years entirely a prisoner to my room from illness and overwork, which work still I do, thank God."

"For the Blood is the Life."

See Deuteronomy, xii: 23. The blood being the source from which the system is built up, and from which we derive our mental as well as physical capabilities, how important that it should be kept pure! If it contain vile, festering poisons, all organic functions become enfeebled. Settling upon important organs, as the lungs, liver, and kidneys, the effect is most disastrous. Hence it behooves all to keep their blood in a perfectly healthy condition, and more especially does this apply at this particular season of the year than at any other. No matter what the exciting cause may be, the real cause of a large proportion of all diseases is bad blood. Now, Dr. Pierce does not wish to place his Golden Medical Discovery in the catalogue of quack patent nostrums by recommending it to cure every disease, nor does he so recommend it; on the contrary, there are hundreds of diseases that he acknowledges it will not cure; but what he does claim is this, that there is but one form of blood disease that it will not cure, and that disease is cancer. He does not recommend his Discovery for that disease, yet he knows it to be the most searching blood cleanser yet discovered, and that it will free the blood and system of all other blood-poisons, be they animal, vegetable, or mineral. The Golden Medical Discovery is warranted by him to cure the worst forms of Skin Diseases, as all forms of Blotches, Pimples, and Eruptions; also all Glandular Swellings, and the worst form of Scrofulous and Ulcerated Sores of the Neck, Legs, or other parts, and all Scrofulous Diseases of the Bones, as White Swellings, Fever Sores, Hip-joint and Spinal Diseases,—all of which belong to Scrofulous diseases.

Confirmed—Hip-Joint Disease Cured.

DR. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y.:

Dear Sir—My wife first became lame nine years ago. Swellings would appear and disappear on her hip, and she was gradually becoming reduced, and her whole system rotten with disease. In 1871, a swelling broke on her hip, discharging large quantities, and since that time there are several openings. Have had five doctors, at and since that time there are several openings. Have had five doctors at an expense of $125, who say nothing will do any good but a surgical operation.

July 16, 1873 he writes thus: My wife has certainly received a great benefit from the use of your Discovery, for she was not able to get off the bed and was not expected to live a week when she commenced using it; a year ago. She has been doing most of her work for over six months. Has used twenty bottles, and still using it. Her recovery is considered as almost a miracle and we attribute it all to the use of your valuable medicine. I can cheerfully recommend it as a blood purifier and strengthrestorer. J. M. ROBINSON.

Golden Medical Discovery is sold by Druggists.

THE DAILY NEWS.

.... NOVEMBER 14 1875

NORTH CAROLINA

—The authorities of the Wilmington & Weldon Railroad are building a new depot house at Rocky Mount.

—Miss Annie Scarr, of Charlotte, was severely hurt a few days since by the horse attached to a carriage in which she was riding running away.

—Mr. J. H. Mills, with nine of the patients from the Oxford Asylum, is giving entertainments in all of the principal towns of the State.

—On Wednesday last Mr. Wesly S. Taylor, of Hillsboro, and Miss Mollie, daughter of R. W. Taylor, Esq., of Orange county, were married at the residence of the bride's father by the Rev. P. E. Hines officiating.

—A number of journalists engaged in a fox hunt in Rocking-ham and Guilford arranged for a picnic, among them Col. E. P. Hutter of Washington City, Philip Jullian Esq., of Greensboro', Clifford Warden of the Boston Post, and Dan S. Ellis, Esq., of the Chicago Tribune.

—Willis Bunn, the colored member of the House of Representatives from Brunswick county, was picked up by the authorities of Rocky Mount a few days since and made to pay for loafing. He was guilty of creating a disturbance on the street and was ready to die for the great Republican party."

—Rev. T. H. Pritchard, of Raleigh, preached in the Baptist church at Oxford on Tuesday night after which he ordained the three deacons that were elected by that church some two weeks back. The introductory sermon of the Baptist Convention, which is at that place was preached on Sunday night by the Rev. Mr. Brown, of Fayetteville.

—The Pinkmoke News learns that the gin house and several bales of cotton of Mr. Kitchen of Scotland Neck, brother of Captain W. H. Kitchen, was burned on Thursday night last. The incendiary a negro was caught while making his escape. The News continues: "Mr. W. H. Shields tells us that he can count up twenty-five gin houses burned since the war in the northern portion of this county and Martin. What a commentary on the boasted philanthropy of the negro and his whippers!"

—Says the Statesville American: "Mr. John C. Ramsey, of Columbus, Mississippi, to which place he removed many years ago, arrived in Statesville, by the Southern train on Monday evening, and will spend the winter in this climate for the benefit of his health, which has been greatly impaired by a long residence on the banks of the Tombigby river in an enervating climate. Mr. Ramsey is the son of the late John A. Ramsey, formerly the owner of Ramsey's mills, Chatham county, now Siler's, and a grand son of Gen. Joseph Ramsey, a patriot of the Revolution of 1776. He reports Mississippi not a desirable place for residence at this time."

—Massachusetts insurance companies have given notice that, if the fire department of sundry towns and cities persist in spending half their time in parades, picnics and target excursions, all policies held in such places will be cancelled.

—Nothing is so discouraging to a young lawyer just as he waxes eloquent about angel's tears, weeping willows and tombstones, as to be interrupted by the cold-blooded justice with "You're off your nest bub; this is a case of hog stealing."

—The Detroit (Mich.) Sun says: "It looks now as if Gilbert C. Walker, of Virginia, will be the next Speaker of the House. If such should be the case, it will be a legal tender triumph."

—An exclusively colored panel in a Louisiana court lately returned the written conclusion, "We, the verdict, and the jury guilty."

—The Boston Post wants to know if it is possible to expose any rottenness that doesn't smell of the White House."

Yesterday's Mail

brought three more certificates in favor of "Cannabis Indica," the great East India remedy for consumption, bronchitas and asthma:

——: Send me one dozen Ointment and one of Cannabis Indica. When Mr. J. W. Fisher brought his wife to me for examination, I found her in the incipient stage of Pulmonary Consumption. Then it was I decided to make a fair trial of Indian Hemp, and now there is a general demand for those remedies. The Ointment excels everything of its kind I ever saw or tried.

Fraternally yours,
P. A. SIFFORD, M. D.

China Grove, Rowan, N. C.

N.B. This remedy speaks for itself. One bottle will satisfy the most skeptical. Ask your druggist to get it. $2.50 per bottle or three bottles for $6.50. Pills and Ointment $1 25 each.

As these are imported remedies we do not commission them, but will make cash agents everywhere.

NOON DISPATCHES.

The Von Arnim Difficulty not yet settled.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—The Times special telegram from Berlin says the Berlin Criminal Court has ordered, at the instance of public prosecution, the arraignment of the author of a recent pamphlet containing a document connected with the Arnim trial, on the charge of insulting the Emperor, and libelling Bismarck and the foreign office. It is believed that Count Von Arnim himself or some one in his confidence is the author. The offence is punishable by many years imprisonment.

BERLIN, Nov. 13.—Count Von Armin is still at Veva, in Switzerland. He had asked leave of the Court to remain abroad longer on account of the state of his health, before undergoing imprisonment. Before the Court answered the application there appeared the libellous pamphlet already described.

The Remains of Guibord to be interred at Last.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—A Montreal despatch says Guibord's funeral will take place Tuesday next. The Cortege will not pass through the city as intended. The police force has been armed with rifles and the entire military force will be ordered out. Whether the authorities will allow the huge saracophagus to be placed in the Cemetery is an open question, and may lead to fresh complications. The funeral cortege will only pass through the adjoining villages of St. Laurent and Cate Des Neiges, and a police force will be sent to those places.

The Ship Wrecked which Came in Contact with the Pacific—No Hopes of Finding any More of the Pacific's Live Cargo.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 13.—The revenue steamer Walcott, cruising for survivors from the Pacific, was boarded in Barclay Sound from an Indian village by a man claiming to be the first mate of the ship Orpheas. She had been run into on the previous Thursday evening by a steamer and was wrecked the following Saturday. They crew got ashore safely. Capt. Sawyer, of the Orpheas, subsequently boarded the Walcott. The Orpheas will prove a total wreck. No hope of finding any more from the Pacific.

The St. Louis Whiskey Frauds.

ST. LOUIS, Nov 13.—Arthur Gunther, Revenue Agent, indicted for receiving money to withhold information of whiskey and tobacco frauds, plead not guilty. Held five thousand dollars bail. Col. POONAH, Nov. 13.—The Prince of Wales arrived here to-day and had an enthusiastic reception. His movements after leaving here are uncertain. There are bad accounts of the spread of cholera in various districts of the Madras presidency. The trip of the Prince to Gairsoppa Falls at his shooting expedition to Bayafoor have therefore been abandoned. It is doubtful whether he will even visit Madras.

Hall, charged with conspiracy against the Government and intimidating Willis Russell, acting United States Marshall, in the discharge of his duties, returned a verdict this morning of guilty as to Smoot and Meffert, but recommended Meffert to the mercy of the Court on account of his ill health. The men are all implicated in the owen Ku-Klux outrages.

A WELL-MERITED SUCCESS.—Accentrasted with fortunate cheristanism, well merited success is less frequent than it ought to be. Puffery, blatant assertion and coined recommendations, too often, for instance, give an ephemeral popularity to medicinal compounds intrinsically worthless at the expense of really deserving remedies, and to the grievous detriment of the sick. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a botanical narrative which has achieved one of the best merited and most signal successes of the nineteenth century, has never relied upon such methods of manufacturing a reputation, nor has the competition of quacks and imitators affected its reputation in the slightest degree. That it is the best remedy for malaria, and the surest safeguard against it; that it eradicates dyspepsia, biliousness, constipation, disorders of the kidneys and bladder, and the various causes which produce weakness, are implicit and well founded belief with the great body of the American people.

TO BUSINESS MEN.

A good advertisement in a widely circulated newspaper is the best of all possible salesmen. It is a salesman who never sleeps and never weary; who goes after business early and late; who accosts the merchi-ant in his store, the scholar in his study, the lawyer in his office, the lady in her home, the traveler in the car or boat;

E

a salesman who no purchaser can avoid, who can be in a thousand places at once and speak to thousands of people daily, saying to each one the best thing in the best manner. A good advertisement insures a business connection on the most permanent and independent basis, and is in a certain sense, a guarantee to the customer of fair and moderate prices. Experience has shown that the dealer, whose wares have obtained a public celebrity, is not only enabled to sell, but is forced to sell at reasonable rates, and to furnish a good article. A dealer can make no better investment than in the advertising columns of a widely circulated newspaper. Such is the opinion of a man who is known to be the largest advertiser in the United States.

E

T

I

I

OFFICE OF THE SECURITY LIFE & ANNUITY Co., New York, Nov. 1st, 1875.

TO OUR POLICY HOLDERS

—AND—

FRIENDS IN NORTH CAROLINA.

Maj. R. G. Hay, our late General Agent for your State, having retired from our service to go to another field, we beg leave to notify you we have appointed Dr. T. W. Hutson, of South Carolina, one of our old and tried agents, as his successor.

We beg leave to assure you of the continued prosperity of your Company, and to ask your earnest assistance in advancing our mutual interest by increasing its business.

We respectfully refer you to Dr. Hutson's card below.

Very respectfully,
ROB'T. CASE, President.

BRANCH OFFICE, SECURITY LIFE INS. & ANNUITY Co., Raleigh N. C., Nov 1st, 1875.

REFERRING TO THE ABOVE Card, by which your attention is called to my appointment as General Agent for North Carolina, I think it but proper to state for your information, that I have been connected with the Security Life Company in the State of South Carolina since the year 1868; that the Company has met with great success in that State, having now a larger number of Policies in force than any other Life Company doing business in that section; that it has UP TO THE PRESENT TIME PAID ALL ITS LOSSES, without a SINGLE EXCEPTION, NEVER HAVING LITIGATED A CLAIM. I am happy to inform you its record IS THE SAME IN THIS STATE.

You may rest assured your interest will be duly cared for by me. You will be notified when your payments become due, which payments you will please make at my office, personally or by sight draft, post office order or by Express, upon receipt of which you will have promptly sent you Company's receipt.

Very respectfully,
T. W. HUTSON,
Gen. Ag't. Security Life Co.,

AGENTS WANTED

FOR THE

PENN MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPY, OF PHILADELPHIA.

This Company is purely mutual. No stockholders to absorb profits. Every policy holder is a member of the Company, entitled to all its advantages and privilegres, having a voice at the annual election for Trustees. It is the easiest Company to work because it gives satisfaction to its patrons, for the reason that it has declared MORE DIVIDENDS IN NUMBER and of a LARGER AVERAGE PERCENTAGE than any company in the United States. Official reports show this. For example: Policy 16, for $5 000, has been paid to the widow of a Philadelphia merchant, upon which twenty-three dividends had been declared, averaging (57) fifty-seven per cent. This Policy, at the end of 23 years, had the dividends been used to purchase additional insurance, would have been worth $11 016. Any reliable agent who wants to work for this Company will address
